

MiniBABE participants from 2020 (and all my students) will know of my obsession with the Exercises series by Kurt Johannessen. My challenge for the BABE 2021 Lost Weekend is for you to do one of his exercises yourself, specifically this one which Kurt has agreed we can set as a public participatory call. It is from his original, bestselling artist's book Exercises which is available from his website.

If you have access to some flour, yeast, water and an oven – here you go:

Bake a bread that looks like an airplane.
Put it outside and let the birds eat it.
